

Waterkeepers Chesapeake Welcomes New Partnership with glassybaby!

glassybaby is a company that produces hand blown votives in a dazzling array of colors. In addition to creating beautiful products, glassybaby “actively supports causes that help people, animals and our planet heal.” To date, glassybaby has given over $5.3M to a wide variety on non-profit organization, <http://www.glassybaby.com>.

At Waterkeepers Chesapeake, we focus our energies on advocating for a cleaner healthier Chesapeake Bay. We are part of an alliance of 19 Waterkeepers that monitor and care for all the rivers that enter into the Chesapeake Bay, a watershed which covers six states.

Recently, we were approached by one of our fellow Waterkeepers with the opportunity to partner with glassybaby to launch a new “single giving color” votive called Chesapeake. Part of the mission of glassybaby is to give back to communities and raise awareness of causes which deserve our attention.

The result of this new bi-coastal partnership is the new and beautiful glassybaby named Chesapeake, their first dip into the Chesapeake Bay watershed. It captures the colors and clarity that are the essence of the Bay.

Under their power of giving program, 10% of the price of each Chesapeake glassybaby will be donated to Waterkeepers Chesapeake to help support our work from New York to Virginia.
